

DISTRICT NAVY MEN EXPECT THE TROPHY

Bermuda Cruise to End With Big Gun Competition at Tangier Sound.

RAMPTON ROADS, July 15.—Tangier Sound, where the marksmanship of the naval battalions of the District National Guard and the other citizenry will be tested, will be reached by the battleship Rhode Island tomorrow.

Then will commence the competition between the marksmen returning from the practice cruise to Bermuda. The target competition will be between the four-inch guns on the sound tomorrow and Friday will be between Commander Dempf's Capital sailors and the naval battalions of North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Delaware, and New Jersey. Dempf's men are intent on winning the Navy Department trophy and the privilege to wear the "E" for the coming year.

Before the arrival at Bermuda, the boys were routed out early and everything aboard ship from the coal hole to the fighting top was made to shine like a searchlight. Of course there still remains some work to be done, such as feeding the boilers huge quantities of coal and keeping the engines well lubricated, but most of the activity on board ship has been drills, drills, drills. There were gun drills, physical drills, fire drills, collision drills and night torpedo attack defense drills at the searchlight.

The officers in charge of the District men in the various maneuvers were: Commander Dempf, supreme on the signal bridge; Paymaster Johns and Ensign F. L. Mudge, in charge of the searchlight; Lieut. B. C. Giesinger and Lieut. F. G. Sigourney, in charge of guns; and Lieut. D. C. Godwin in charge of stations. Ensign F. Thompson and Ensign W. J. Wheatley were stationed in the turrets.

Even in the heaviest sea after the first day of the cruise, the men were in the turrets when the gun drills were ordered. The actual cruise will end probably Sunday when the District militia will embark on a steamer at Norfolk for the Capital.

Announce Changes in Department of Commerce

The Department of Commerce today announced the following changes: David A. West transferred from the department of Agriculture to position as clerk at $900 in the office of the Secretary. Edna Heckett, probationary appointment, as clerk at $900 in the Bureau of the Census; in the Light-house Service, John S. McKinney, transferred from the War Department to the Office of the Inspector of the Third Lighthouse District as draftsman at $1,500.

Names Clark for Bench.

The nomination of John H. Clark, of Cleveland, O., to be United States judge for the northern district of Ohio, will be sent to the Senate this afternoon. Senator Pomeroy and President Wilson conferred this morning concerning the nomination.

Body Hangs in Tree.

LAKE CORMORANT MISS, July 15.—Jim Bailey, colored, was lynched for stealing a mule. He had no relatives, and the county had no funds, so the body is still hanging in a tree.

Summer Reduces the Prices on Reupholstering

and Repairing
Furniture

As has been our custom for a number of years, we are again offering special summer reductions to those who will entrust their furniture to us during the warm months for repairing and reupholstering. Let us have the privilege of inspecting and estimating upon any repair work of any kind of furniture you have that is beginning to show signs of service. We not only do upholstering, but furniture will be cleaned and the woodwork thoroughly finished to look like new. Tables and other pieces that have no upholstering are all cared for by us.

WILSON TO SIGN BILL TOMORROW

Measure Carries $12,000,000.
Which Will Be Available
Tomorrow.

President Wilson is expected to sign the District of Columbia appropriation bill tomorrow and thus end the long suspense and embarrassment over the bill. Vice President Marshall affixed his signature to the bill at 12:32 o'clock today—it had previously been signed by Speaker Clark.

Following an agreement by the conferees yesterday afternoon, the House and Senate quickly agreed to the conference report and thus passed the bill. It will be hurried to the President as soon as it is submitted to the Commissioners and the Secretary of the Treasury, and by tomorrow night is expected to be law.

This bill will obviate passage of another continuing resolution. The bill carries an approximate total of $12,000,000. The agreement of the conferees was reached by the elimination of Section 5 relating to unexpended revenues; elimination of the Keller claim; and a compromise on the Borland paving amendment whereby one-fourth of the expense of paving up to forty feet in width of any street is borne by the District, one-fourth by the general Government, and the rest by the abutting property owners.

The Borland Compromise.

The following is the compromise for the Borland amendment: "Hereafter whenever under appropriations made by Congress, the roadway or any street, avenue, or road in the District of Columbia is improved by laying new pavement or by completely resurfacing the same not less than one square in extent, from curb to curb, or from gutter to gutter where no curb exists, where the material used is sheet asphalt, asphalt block, asphaltic or bituminous macadam, concrete, or other fixed roadway pavement, such proportion of the total cost of the work, including all expenses of the assessment, to be made as hereinafter prescribed, shall be charged against and become a lien upon the abutting property, and assessments therefor shall be levied pro rata, according to the linear frontage of said property on the street, avenue, or road or portion thereof upon the roadway of which said new pavement or resurfacing is laid; provided, that there shall be excepted from said assessment the cost of paving the roadway space included within the intersection of streets, avenues, and roads, as said intersections are included within the building lines projected, and also the cost of paving the space within such roadways for which street railway companies are responsible under their charters or under law on streets, avenues, or roads where such railways have been or shall be constructed.

Manner of Assessment.

"The assessments hereinafter provided for shall be levied in the following proportion, namely, one-half of the total cost upon the abutting property owners, and the remaining one-half and all of the expenses of maintenance and repairs to be paid from the revenues of the District of Columbia and from the Treasury of the United States in equal parts; provided, that where the width of the street, avenue, or road to be paved or completely resurfaced from curb to curb or gutter to gutter, as the case may be, shall exceed forty feet, the excess including the cost of intersection or spaces within which street railways are required to pay, shall be paid for one-half out of the Treasury of the United States and one-half out of the revenues of the District of Columbia.

"Assessments levied under the provisions hereof, shall be payable and collectible in the same manner and under the same penalty for nonpayment as is provided for assessments for improving sidewalks and alleys in the District of Columbia, as set forth on page 245 of Vol. XXVIII, United States statutes at large; provided that the cost of publication of the notice of such assessment upon the failure to obtain personal service upon the owners of the property to be assessed therein provided for and of the services of such notices shall be paid out of the appropriation for the work, and such assessments, when collected, shall be deposited in the Treasury of the United States to the credit of the United States and the District of Columbia in equal parts."

"Guarantee" Ban Extended

Following its action in prohibiting the use of a guarantee legend on food and drug products, the Pure Food Board has announced the prohibition, after May 1, 1916, of similar legends on insecticides and fungicides, because they are allegedly confusing to the consumer.
